Elsewhere on this page is the selection of the All-Bay League football squad for 1947. This selection is an official selection since the eight football coaches whose teams make up the Bay league made the selection.

The yearly "all" teams that appear early every winter are usually named by sports writers and the readers heap their abuse on said sports writers for leaving off their favorite tackle, Joe Blow, or my son John.

However, the coaches have done better. They have included just about EVERYBODY on the squad!

With eight teams in the league, it would seem that the selections would have been made from among the first 11 men on each squad. Using this 88-man list, the coaches have chosen 64. Count 'em! One can figure that the 24 players who didn't make the coaches' list must have been pretty sad indeed.

Sometimes in the future, we can look back on the Torrance Tartars in their first year in the mighty Bay league and point with pride to the fact that two of the players made the second All-Bay league team with six others given honorable mention.

Yet, with all this talent, the local lads only finished in a tie for fifth place in the final standings. Ah, dear reader, the reason for this is obvious: The champion Santa Monica Vikings placed 12 men among the selected few!

After seeing the nonsense put out by the coaches, temptation is offered to produce a Sport Shop All-Bay league team. That team would not have a fullback, no matter how good a fullback he was, for his first string guard.

Meaning, of course, Goodwin "Buzzy" Trent of Santa Monica. Last year, Trent was all-league guard, an honor which he conceivably deserved. This year, Samohi Coach Jim Sutherland shifted Trent to fullback, at which position Trent started every game for the Vikings.

It's a fair fullback and all that, but since he didn't play guard, what sort of rationalization was required to place him on the all-league selection at that position? Even assuming that if he played guard he would have been the best guard in the league, it is still rather vague.

So there is the team as selected by the coaches. Few people have hurt feelings because just about everybody and his brother is chosen. Rio Gonzales, the Leuzinger tackle who got himself tossed out of the Torrance game for dirty playing is there. Hendry Watt, Redondo center who was out of action most of the season with injuries, is there too.

It is quite possible that Kilroy is there somewhere also. Jack Garrabrant of Narbonne isn't there; just because he wasn't in the league shouldn't have stopped the coaches. Gracious no!

To borrow a time-honored phrase: Gentlemen, THIS IS RIDICULOUS!

The Torrance High hoopers could have been dubbed the "Rainbows" for the varied and assorted trunks that were displayed Friday night in the cage opener. Red, maroon, pink, scarlet, blue, and many variegated varieties were in evidence as some of the flashiest shorts this side of Hollywood were unveiled. In some cases, the shirts were of the new bare midriff style with some cute "tummies" showing through.

Coach Cliff Graybehl says that the fashion shows are just about over; he expects his new uniforms sometime this week. The hoopers will be wearing the school's red and grey; "tres chic," claims the mentor.

There's just no getting away from football is there? The starting lineup for the B basketball team Friday included Dick Rupert, quarterback; Milo Goetsch, halfback; Harry Theodosis, end, and Dave Dougherty, B squad end. The varsity hoopers used Fullback Gil Bennett, Quarterback Dick Turner, and End Bob Jones in the course of the evening.

Charlie Warning and Pop Jopson rolled themselves right into the 600 club for the first time this week. Charlie chopped a pile of wood for a 239 high game for 630 and Pop rolled 224-613. Congratulations fellows.

I have a full sheet of names of fellows who rolled 200 games and it would take far too much space to list them all, so here are a few of the highest. M. Brannon, 229; James Riou, 211; K. Pedersen, 221-213; A. Coast, 225; D. Ossea, 231; and T. McNeil, 215.

Six hundred series were also very much present in league scores this week. J. Basset rolled 245-642; C. Newey, 246-606; R. Reese, 222-603; and Homer Howe, 212-609.

At last those gals on Friday night slowed down enough for me to get my name in the paper for a change. I managed to come through with a 223-540. Thanks for waiting for me gals. Dottie Pedersen banged out 208-507, Flo Derham 183-510, Helen Tarkent 506, Ann Trueblood 505 and Mary Myers 502.

The Outcasts and the Slickers are all tied for the lead in the Columbia Steel league on Monday night. In the Tuesday 800 Scratch, Rogers Liquor is one game out in front of Moose Lodge. Workers Cafe and Ady's Texaco are sharing the lead in the Tuesday Industrial.

V. & H. Garage leads the Wednesday mixed ahead of Victory Trailer. In the 6-45 mixed, the Buckeroos still have a four game lead over the Paradise Hut team and Lowry Furniture. Selma Cleaners are really going to town and have piled up an eight game lead in the Thursday night 576 Scratch. Torrance Bowl, South Bay Amusement and Schwartz Clothiers are in a tie for second place. The Lucky Strikes are leading the Dicalite League. They have a one game lead over the Hits & Misses.

Howard Realty moved 3 games out in the lead of the Ladies' 560 Classic on Friday night.
